SLS has prepared this handbook to help you navigate our various services, whether you are a student seeking occasional tips and supports to be successful, you have a temporary challenge or barrier to your learning, or if you are a student with a documented disability and are eligible for specific accommodations. SLS is here to help you make the most of your educational journey.

Accommodations for students with disabilities or learning challenges are intended to help remove barriers to learning. All accommodations are determined on an individual basis, and are founded on shared responsibility between the student and Portage College.

Please note that Portage College Student Learning Services are provided at no cost to students. Any costs associated with assistive technology may be offset by funding options available. Ask us for more information.

All services for students are private and confidential, and will not be stated on your transcript of marks. Assessment records are stored in confidence within the SLS office with restricted access.

Temporary Supports

Students may experience a temporary illness, injury, or impairment that affects their ability to fully engage with their learning environment (for instance, a broken arm could impact the ability to type or take notes, and temporary exam accommodations may be required). Students experiencing a temporary barrier to their learning are advised to consult with their Instructor, Coordinator or SLS staff about potential supports.

Admissions Process

Students with disabilities who are applying to Portage College must meet standard admission requirements and follow typical admission procedures. Students who know that they have a disability and may require accommodations are encouraged to self-identify early with their Student Advisor so supports can be arranged as soon as possible. Students who suspect a barrier to their learning are encouraged to speak with their Student Advisor, Instructor, Coordinator or SLS staff for more information on the referral process and/or learning support.

Assessment process

Students who have documentation of their disability will be asked to provide this to SLS staff during the intake process. Appropriate accommodations will be based on the recommendations found in this documentation. All documentation is confidential under the Freedom of Information and Protection of Privacy Act (FOIPP). Information will not be provided to third parties without student consent.

How do I get documentation?

A psychoeducational assessment is completed by a registered psychologist to determine whether or not a learning disability is present, the functional impact it has on the student and his or her learning, and recommendations for suitable accommodations that will assist the student in their program of study. If you do not already have documentation, a Learning Facilitator can assist you with the referral process.

A medical assessment is completed by a medical doctor to determine if there are any conditions (physical or otherwise) present that may impact a student's learning ability, and can include recommendations for accommodations. Please see a Learning Facilitator for a form to be filled out by a doctor if accommodations or supports are requested.

Accommodations

The Alberta Human Rights Commission requires all post-secondary institution to provide reasonable accommodations to students with disabilities to help them succeed in the educational institution. The key document, Duty to Accommodate Students with Disabilities in Post-Secondary Educational Institutions, states:

Accommodation is the process of making alterations to the delivery of services so that those services become accessible to more people, including persons with disabilities. Accommodation has allowed many talented persons with disabilities to make major contributions to life in Canada and around the world.

Accommodation does not:

- 1. Require that post-secondary institutions lower academic or non-academic standards to accommodate students with disabilities.*
- 2. Relieve the student of the responsibility to develop the essential skills and competencies expected of all students.*

— Alberta Human Rights Commission, 2013, p. 3

What accommodations can I expect?

Accommodations for students with a disability vary on an individual basis. These accommodations consider a student's unique strengths, barriers and needs. Examples of accommodations that may be considered include:

- Individual Learning Assessments
- Instruction in Effective Learning Strategies
- Reading and Writing Enhancement Programs
- Individual Educational Assistance
- Innovative Learning Technology and Equipment
- Classroom Supports and Accommodations
- Exam Accommodations
- Alternate Formatting of Materials
- Reduced Course Load
- Assistance for students with English as an additional language
